Dear _____

Thank you for your interest in our program. We are delighted to help you explore the possibility of conversion to Judaism. Our mandate is to give you the support you need and treat you with absolute dignity and sensitivity. We hope you find your experiences with the program enlightening and meaningful.

Conversion is more than a course of study; it requires a serious, life-long commitment. Successful candidates - and their partner, if applicable - will undergo a personal religious transformation and sincerely commit themselves to being Jewish and living a traditional Jewish lifestyle. In addition, successful candidates are expected to have integrated socially into an observant Jewish community where they will find the social support necessary for future Jewish growth.

Due to financial constraints, we must charge fees to defer part of the program's costs. However, we will consider requests for partial scholarships in cases of serious need; we do not want finances to be a barrier for sincere candidates.

Enclosed are our application form, guidelines, and curriculum. We look forward to seeing you,

Sincerely,

Rabbi Michael Whitman
Yosheiv Rosh
